U. S. Troops Hang Grimly To Prized Guadalcanal Field

PLAN SOUGHT TO INCREASE ARMY MIGHT

Attention Focused on Proposal to Revamp Fighting Services and War-time Agencies

A COORDINATED UNIT

BY FRANCIS M. LEMAY
Washington, Oct. 30.—(P)—Against a background of momentous reports from the Solomon Islands, Capitol Hill attention focused today on proposals to revamp the fighting services, Washington war-time agencies and, moreover, congressional procedure—all aimed at greater military striking power.

Other propositions engaging the attention of senators and representatives included:

1. Creation of a congressional "high command" committee to coordinate and expedite wartime legislation.

2. Sweeping reorganization of the federal agencies through establishment of an over-all office of war mobilization guided by an "economic general staff."

The three far-reaching proposals generally were aimed at erasing what some of their sponsors termed "jealousy" in the fighting forces, "red tape" in government and "duplication of effort" and slow action in congress.

Some Capitol Hill observers speculated privately that the transfer of the Army-Navy football (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Yank Forces Reported To Be In Liberia

London, Oct. 30.—(P)—A Reuters dispatch from Monrovia said today it was officially announced that American troops, including Negro units, had been in Liberia since July. It said two airports had been constructed.

Parliament had approved legislation providing for Liberia's cooperation with the United States, it said. Liberia is on the west coast of Africa.

The dispatch said that Lieut. Col. Harry A. McBride of the United States Army, who discussed legislation with President Barclay of the African republic has returned after reporting to President Roosevelt.

Terrific Nipponese Naval Onslaught Is Expected To Break Against American Warships

TREACHERY IS EXPOSED

BY JOHN H. WIGGINS
Washington, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The navy announced today that American troops on Guadalcanal had destroyed 12 Japanese light tanks in the last week and that in the last two days torpedo boats had scored a torpedo hit on a Japanese destroyer which was engaged in reinforcing enemy troops on the island.

A communique on the Solomon Islands activity said that land fighting on Guadalcanal island on the last two days had been confined to small skirmishes, but American aircraft were continuing to bomb and strafe enemy positions west of the airfield. In the late afternoon of October 28 (Island Time) American fighter planes destroyed two enemy seaplanes at Rekata Bay. On the morning of October 29, enemy bombers attacked the American positions on Guadalcanal, but all their bombs dropped in the water, the navy said, and no damage resulted.

A terrific Nipponese naval onslaught in the Solomons area was expected to break shortly against admittedly inferior numbers of United States warships, but, meanwhile, Allied airpower lashed out at enemy vessels, planes, troops and installations over the wide battle front.

The navy reported yesterday that the American marines and army troops on Guadalcanal broke up three additional Japanese assaults on Oct. 27 (Solomon Islands time). The airfield defenders were thrown back by one heavy attack (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Death Plunge Victim Formerly of St. Marys

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—(P)—A woman identified by police as Mrs. Walburg Reilly Stackpole, 43, formerly of St. Marys, Pa., plunged to her death shortly after 11 a. m. today from a fifteen floor window of the Hotel Warwick, where she was visiting her mother, Mrs. Joseph H. Reilly.

Mrs. Stackpole's body, clad in underclothing and bedroom slippers, landed in a street near the hotel entrance. A shower of broken window glass fell with the body.

Mrs. Stackpole was the wife of J. Hall Stackpole, whom she married after her divorce from Alexander B. Paine, son of August O. Paine, Jr., New York banker, in 1933. The social register gives the address of both Mr. and Mrs. Stackpole as the Warwick.

WAR BULLETINS

Vichy, Oct. 30.—(P)—Admiral Jean Darlan, chief of Vichy's armed forces, returned today from an inspection of French African colonies along the Atlantic as a high government figure hinted that Vichy stood ready not only to defend its present colonies, but to "counter-attack" to regain those lost.

Daytona Beach, Fla., Oct. 30.—(P)—The "world-famed sands of Daytona Beach" where Sir Malcolm Campbell and other daring drivers shattered auto speed records in days gone by—soon will resound to the tap-tap-tap of thousands of drilling WAACS.

Cleveland, Oct. 30.—(P)—The army air corps has abandoned for the present its plans to take over Cleveland's $25,000,000 public hall, municipal stadium and the lakefront for training purposes.

Chungking, Oct. 30.—(P)—Lieut. Vernon L. Scott of Hazel, S. D., rode safely through a flurry of bullets that peppered his transport plane over India, but he became a casualty soon after reaching China—a dog at the officers' mess bit his leg.

Washington, Oct. 30.—(P)—Heads of government agencies may be called into unprecedented conferences soon in an effort to pare non-war expenditures to the bone in the new budget to be submitted to congress in January.

Bern, Switzerland, Oct. 30.—(P)—German news agency reports reaching here today from Berlin said the Russians are massing "powerful shock armies" for a winter attempt to break through the Germans' Vitebsk-Smolensk line some 274 miles west of Moscow.

Glasgow, Scotland, Oct. 30.—(P)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden declared in a speech here today that Britain now is shifting away from the defensive. Eden told the Scottish Unionist conference that the war was at the start of a new phase.

Berlin, (From German Broadcasts), Oct. 30.—(P)—The German high command declared in a special communique today that U-boats in the north Atlantic had "attacked a fully-laden convoy on its way to Britain, sinking nine ships totalling 68,500 tons." (This report had no confirmation from any Allied source.)

British Eighth Army Drives Deeper Into Axis Front As Warplanes Hammer Rear Forces

INFANTRY EMPHASIZED

BY DON WHITEHEAD
Cairo, Oct. 30.—(P)—Britain's Eighth Army has driven deeper into the Axis El Alamein line defenses in conjunction with a ceaseless Allied air offensive taking steadily heavier toll in the enemy's rear, official reports from the front announced today.

Fighter pilots of the United States army air force alone have shot down 22 enemy fighters in five days with a loss of only two of their own, although the Germans have been loathe to battle them and avoided them altogether yesterday.

At the end of the first week of the offensive to decide the fate of the Mediterranean, however, neither side apparently was ready to throw its main armored forces into the struggle—neither the British to exploit their gains nor the Germans to plug the menacing gaps in their lines.

The British emphasized in a British communique which dealt mostly with the damaging blows on the Axis from the air and reported the land action.

The announcement indicated that the British were following the tactics to which they have adhered for the most part in the present campaign, attacking at night and consolidating their gains during the daylight hours.

The communique did not specify the extent of the advances or the sectors in which they occurred.

The bulletin told of ceaseless aerial attacks by day and night on Axis airfields and advanced positions.

British air losses in the entire Mediterranean theater were listed as one plane.

Men Without Dependents Diminishing

Harrisburg, Oct. 30.—(P)—Single Pennsylvania men with collateral dependents will be inducted into military service, where needed, to fill local draft board quotas in November, state selective service headquarters announced.

Col. B. F. Evans, acting director, said the supply of available men without dependents will be greatly diminished next month. He described collateral dependents as those other than such close relatives as parents.

In another development, the state Veterans of Foreign Wars urged the publication of names of men deferred.

The VFW council of administration said such action would "tend to expose 'draft dodgers' and other unpatriotic male citizens who are now hiding behind a deferment to which they are not entitled." Col. Evans said all classifications were posted and made available to the public.

He emphasized that no married men were before Dec. 9, 1941, who maintain a bona fide family relation with wives only, will be called to meet November quotas.

Scrapple Coming Back Into Its Own In Philly

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—(P)—Philadelphia's famous scrapple comes back into its own next week.

Twenty-five of the city's leading hotels announced that ham and bacon will be dropped from their breakfast menus on Tuesdays and Fridays in a voluntary conservation program and scrapple will be substituted.

Scrapple contains bits of pork but is made primarily from meal and vegetables.

Registration Of Women Is Contemplated

No Decision Reached on Issue of Service Legislation President Says

SURVEY IS PROPOSED

Washington, Oct. 30.—(P)—President Roosevelt informed a press conference today that no decision had been reached yet on the issue of national service legislation but he added that the possibility of compulsory registration of women was under consideration.

The chief would not mean that a registration would be ordered, by compulsion, to go here, there, or the other place to work. It would be aimed, he said, at trying to find out where the available supply of women workers exists and something of their fitness for war industry jobs.

This registration idea, Mr. Roosevelt said, was a major topic of discussion when he met yesterday with the CIO-AFL Labor War Board. The board members talked, he said, of registering women of 18 to 65. Legislation would be required to authorize this canvass of women power.

Probably that would mean, the president said, that the survey could not be made before the end of the year. But, replying to a question, he said he did not think it should be implied that national service legislation necessarily would be delayed also until that time.

He emphasized that there had been no decision whatever on such legislation up to this point, remarking that it still was in the study stage.

On Capitol Hill today, CIO President Philip Murray voiced "flat opposition" to pending congressional proposals for manpower control and urged that the president speedily convene a "conference committee of the nation" to plan the unification of all federal production, procurement and manpower agencies and resources.

Julius Luhrs, executive secretary of the Railway Labor Executive's Association, also opposed compulsory drafting of workers.

Salary Rules Taking Shape

Washington, Oct. 30.—(P)—A hand-picked crew of treasury experts today dug into the job of drafting detailed salary stabilization regulations, the broad outline of which now indicates that the only unorganized white collar workers definitely doomed to go raiseless for the duration are those earning more than $25,000 a year net income.

Except for deductions of federal income taxes, customary charitable contributions life insurance premiums and fixed obligations, the annual take of the boys in the upper brackets was firmly pegged at the $25,000 figure.

But the treasury's interpretation of Economic Director James F. Byrnes' salary regulations made it a vastly different story for the big majority of folk who earn less than that each year.

In the long list of unorganized executive, administrative and professional people who receive less than $5,000, plus those of all classes between $5,000 and $25,000, treasury spokesmen said there was scarcely a situation which absolutely precluded the possibility of a raise.

BABE BURNED FATALLY

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—(P)—Playing together in the parlor of their home, Franklin Struse, 3, and his brother, David, 16 months, found a box of matches. Seconds later their mother, Mrs. Christine Struse, heard screams and found David's clothing in flames. He was burned fatally.

GERMANS ARE REPULSED BY SOVIET TANKS

Critical Battle of Armored Forces in Stalingrad Reported Won By Reds

SETBACK IN CAUCASUS

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY
Moscow, Oct. 30.—(P)—Red army tanks won a battle of armored forces to maintain Stalingrad's defense lines and Soviet troops regained another height in the west Caucasus, but numerically superior invaders compelled a retreat in the Nalchik sector for the second successive day, the Russians said today.

Sixteen tanks of a German assault force were declared destroyed by tread-tracked Soviet machines barring their way in a Stalingrad factory area and the others withdrew, the noon communique said.

Although a German detachment drove up 50 to 100 yards to the edge of a factory ground during a costly assault by a tank-supported infantry division yesterday and fierce fighting continued in this 67th day of the siege, it was announced that "all attacks were repulsed and Soviet troops are firmly holding their positions."

Heavy losses were declared suffered by the Germans on the new battlefields about Nalchik, in the central Caucasus, 50 miles southwest of Moscow.

With strong air support, the enemy was reported hurling upwards of 100 tanks into attacks on Red army forces in the Nalchik district.

The Germans hurled huge forces of infantry and tanks into their initial thrusts and a dispatch to the army newspaper reported that fresh men and machines had been put into the combat for the foothills of the snow-blanketed Caucasian mountains.

Nazi airmen bombed the Red army front line, its close rear and road communications.

Red Star published a photograph of the first snowfall of the season on the north slopes of the mountains, showing the Red army troops bearing automatic guns filed through a valley knee deep in snow.

95 Are Held For Racket In Stolen Cards

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—(P)—Ninety-five men charged with selling or using stolen gasoline rationing coupons were held under bail today in one of the nation's largest gasoline "black markets" created after two 16-year-old boys stole books from a ration board office.

The defendants, indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday, face a maximum penalty on conviction of $10,000 fine and a year in jail, a government attorney said.

A total of 4,529 books with a ration value of about 1,000,000 gallons were stolen last August in Norristown, Pa., the office of Public Administration said, and most were turned over to gasoline station operators or attendants.

The indictments named several attendants and accused them of using the coupons for customers whose legal rations were exhausted.

Myron M. Caffey, chief state investigator for the Office of Price Administration, said the boys admitted entering the Norristown office through an unlocked window and scooping up books without regard to their value.

They were turned over to juvenile authorities and Caffey said a federal judge, sitting as a juvenile judge, might hear their cases.

The OPA recovered 1,358 of the stolen books, during a several-weeks investigation, Caffey said.

Fairly Light Vote In County Is Anticipated Next Tuesday

Leaders of Both Parties Making Strenuous Effort To Arouse Interest

SUPPLIES DISTRIBUTED

Employees of the county commissioners office today completed the work of distributing ballots and election supplies to the various precincts in the county for the election of next Tuesday. The task is a large one but at nightfall tonight every election board will have in its hands all material that is needed in the balloting.

From all indications the vote in this county will be fairly light as in almost every district there has been but little interest shown in the campaign. Both parties are making every effort to arouse the voters and leaders are planning on making strenuous efforts to get out the citizens next Tuesday. An endeavor is being made to awaken all to an understanding that upon the preservation of the two party system rests the security of the nation which at this time is being so hard fought for by the armed forces of the land.

The election of Tuesday will place in office practically a new state government including a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs, member of the supreme court, member of the superior court, congressman at large, congressman from this district and a member of the general assembly. Almost all of the State Legislature will also be up for re-election. In all there are 162 of 208 representatives and 22 or 25 State Senators.

The 1941-42 legislature was divided politically with Democrats controlling the house 126 to 82 and Republicans ruling the senate, 32 to 18. The entire house will be elected next Tuesday and half (Turn to Page Nine)

Train Kills Two Students

Pittsburgh, Oct. 30.—(P)—A Pennsylvania railroad passenger train today struck and killed two school girls and injured a sister of one of the victims at the South Eleventh street crossing in the south side section.

The victims, who had been on their way to classes in South High school, were identified by South Side Hospital as Isabel Hoffman, 15, and Rita Prohala, 14. Constable Hoffman, 13, sister of Isabel, was injured.

The hospital said it had received a report the girls waited for one train to pass and then walked onto the crossing into the path of the oncoming passenger train. The train carried commuters from the Monongahela valley.

VILLAGE IN OZARK HILLS DEVASTATED

Fires Break Out After Terrific Storm Forcing Survivors to Suspend Rescue Work

POWER PLANT LEVELED

Berryville, Ark., Oct. 30.—(P)—At least 27 persons were killed and more than 200 injured, many critically, when a tornado leveled more than half of this Ozark mountain town late last night.

Several of the injured were so badly hurt that physicians advised against transporting to hospitals.

Fires broke out immediately after the tornado forcing the survivors to drop their rescue operations for a time to prevent spread of the flames through the splintered wreckage.

Approximately 25 persons were trapped and injured in the collapse of the Missouri and Arkansas Railroad station.

Without hospital facilities, the stricken town of 1,485 population had only three physicians to care for the scores of injured.

Although nearly every business house was damaged, either unroofed or windows blown out, most of them, including three drug stores, were able to open for business. Stocks in most of them were damaged to some extent.

Doctors and nurses were sent from Harrison and Eureka, Spring and several loads of injured were taken to hospitals in other communities.

A passenger bus came through the stricken town 30 minutes after the disaster. Its passengers alighted or stood up to make room for some of the worst injured being taken to the Harrison hospital.

The power plant was destroyed, forcing rescue workers to work by torch light, flashlight, lanterns, candles, or even matches.

The telephone system remained in operation through use of an emergency battery system.

An eight-man medical detachment from Camp Robinson was ordered to Berryville, with medical supplies. An appeal for assistance was sent to the Red Cross at Little Rock.

The city hall and court house, two of the few buildings remaining intact in the business district, were converted into emergency hospitals, but in the early hours there was little the workers could do for the sufferers—no medical supplies, no nurses, and only three doctors to care for the scores of injured. Fallen trees and other debris delayed out of town relief crews.

Willkie Says Russia Cannot Be Conquered

New York, Oct. 30.—(P)—Wendell L. Willkie, says that after his world tour he is convinced that Germany can never take Russia and that the Japanese can never take the United States.

"The 1940 Republican candidate for the presidency addressed a 'March of Time' audience last night over the National Broadcasting Company's nationwide network, supplementing his recent report to the nation.

Before I visited Russia," said Willkie, "It was almost unbelievable to me that any people could stand up under the constant punishment that has been inflicted upon the Russian people by the armies of Germany."

"But I had not been there long before I recognized in them qualities of resource, energy and a love of Russia that convinced me they would never be conquered."

Reporters asked how he was going to vote.

He replied he would either by absentee ballot or in person in his home district of Hyde Park, N. Y.

The president would not say in detail how he was going to mark his ballot, but when asked whether it was a fair inference that he would vote against Representative Fish, Republican candidate for reelection in the chief executive's home district, replied in the affirmative and added he had already said so before.

St. Francis College Has $200,000 Fire

"Old Main" Building, Including Dormitory, Totally Destroyed

MANY RECORDS LOST

Loretto, Oct. 30.—(P)—More than 150 students and priests at St. Francis College escaped safely early today as fire destroyed the college's "Old Main" building, which served as a dormitory, chapel, library and administration center.

John M. Gregory, public relations director of the college, estimated the loss at $200,000 to $250,000. The occupants, most of them asleep when the fire was discovered, got out "without even a minor injury," he added.

Wiped out by the fire was the personal library of Prince Demetrius Augustinus Gallitzin, who gave up his title to become a priest. Gallitzin settled in Loretto in the 18th century and founded the school from which St. Francis College was established in 1845.

Several elderly priests, including one found in the college chapel in the four-story building, were carried to safety through windows or through smoke-filled halls.

Ten fire companies were summoned to the campus, but arrived (Turn to Page Nine)

YORK MAYOR DIES

York, Oct. 30.—(P)—Mayor Harry B. Anstine, 70, who served three times as mayor, died this morning following an attack of pleurisy. Mayor Anstine, a Republican, was a prize manufacturer before entering politics. When Mayor Anstine began his first term he put in to effect a pay-as-you-go policy at city hall.

Washington, Oct. 30.—(P)—Declaring the United States now is engaged "in an all out war to keep democracy alive," President Roosevelt today urged all citizens to vote next Tuesday.

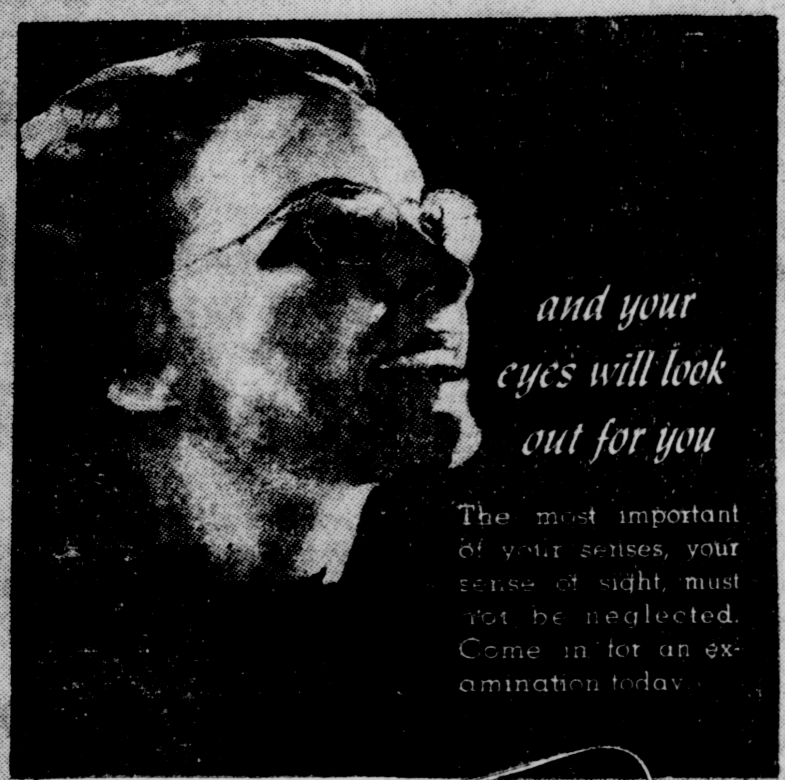

The president asked employers to so arrange work schedules that they and their employees may cast their ballots without loss of pay to workers for reasonable time off.

The president read his formal statement on the elections at a press conference after which reporters asked how he was going to vote.

Bond Sales Exceed Quota For September In Two Counties

Announcement is made today by R. W. Mackay, chairman of the War Savings Committee for Warren and Forest Counties, that sales in each County have again exceeded their quota. The sales for September are reported as follows:

Warren County
September, 1942	Series E	Series F	Series G	Total
First Quarter	19,256.25		$27,100.00	$46,356.25
Second Quarter	18,784.75			18,784.75
Third Quarter	22,125.00	1,480.00	6,000.00	29,605.00
Fourth Quarter	55,912.50		10,100.00	66,012.50
September Total	$116,078.50	$1,480.00	$43,200.00	$160,758.50
Quota $154,000—Percent of Quota 104%.
Forest County
September, 1942—
First Quarter	$3,300.00			$3,300.00
Second Quarter	2,531.25			2,531.25
Third Quarter	7,218.75			7,218.75
Fourth Quarter	10,087.50			10,087.50
September Total	$23,137.50			$23,137.50
Quota $9,000—Percent of Quota 257%.

Other interesting figures are given, showing the percentages of quotas attained for the five months since the beginning of the National campaign to promote the sales of War Savings Bonds:

Warren County		Forest County
Month	% of Quota	Month	% of Quota
May	182.5	May	253.8
June	84.5	June	94.5
July	97.9	July	284.5
August	80.6	August	246.0
September	104.0	September	257.0

Averaging 110% for 5 months.
Averaging 229.1% for 5 months.

While these figures are very gratifying to the War Savings Committee, there is still much work to be done in promoting further purchases of War Savings Bonds in maintaining a continuing rate of sales through regular payroll deductions.

Survey of Workers Will Get Under Way First of the Week

The survey of all workers will get under way next Monday. The forms will be distributed to all manufacturing concerns in the county and they have promised full assistance to the committee. Frank Wood, manager of the Kresge Company, is in charge of the mercantile division and all inquiries from this section should be referred to him.

The distribution of questionnaires will be made Monday and all workers who do not receive one from their employer may obtain one from any of the following sources: Warren borough—Chamber of Commerce; North Warren, Sanden's store; Tidouite, Lawrence Hardware; Akedey, Red and White store; Sugar Grove, Schoonover's; Russell, VanOrsdale & Wiltzie store and Ruhland's Yellow and Black store. Other district headquarters will be announced in Monday's Times-Mirror. Questionnaires will be distributed to the ministers at their meeting on Monday next, or may be obtained from Dr. T. E. Colley. R. Pierson Eaton will have a supply of forms for the legal profession and the medical profession may obtain theirs from the Warren General Hospital. A meeting is to be held Monday evening in Youngsville by the Business Men's Club, when plans to survey the borough will be made. All districts needing supplies or information are advised to contact the administrator, Clem Wolstencroft, who may be reached during the day by calling 680 and evenings by calling 745.

POLITICAL FORUM

Articles appearing in this department are submitted by representatives of the various political parties in Warren county and are not intended to reflect the views or opinions of the publisher.

DEMOCRATIC
Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—(P)—Election of a congress "hostile" to President Roosevelt might lay the groundwork for another war. Rep. Michael J. Bradley, Dem., of Philadelphia said in a radio address last night. "It would be tragic if we elect men to repeat the errors which occurred after the first World War," Bradley said, "because the present conflict is the direct result of the partisan politics which held full sway when a congress antagonistic to Woodrow Wilson was sent to Washington. "If America had been permitted to cooperate fully in the making of the peace as Woodrow Wilson wished and if the mighty navy which Woodrow Wilson had built up had been in existence, Hitler would not have dared to start his war of conquest."

REPUBLICAN
Pittsburgh, Oct. 30.—(P)—Senator James J. Davis, delivering a campaign speech in behalf of Adjutant General Edward Martin, Republican nominee for governor, declared here last night that "the Republicans are coming back to power" throughout the country. Davis, who unsuccessfully opposed Martin for the gubernatorial nomination, discussed conservatism and the war, declaring the nation should be given news of the war "as it happens." "It is better for us to know the news as it happens, rather than have it relayed to us by whispers and rumors," Davis said, adding: "We waited practically a year for some facts on Pearl Harbor x x x let's have the facts. The American people can take them." Davis declared that he believed Martin would make a good governor. He said that he believed Martin's election would reflect the Republican trend throughout the nation.

STATEMENT BY GAVIN
"Today in America we face a crisis. But we shall meet this crisis as we have met every other peril. It won't be the Atlantic, it won't be the Pacific that will protect our sacred rights and freedom. It will be the united American people working together, serving together, and fighting together to preserve our American way of life," said L. H. Gavin, Republican candidate for Congress from the 20th Congressional District. "We can and will win this war, but now is the day and the hour. If we fail our boys in the front lines, they will die fighting. However, if we get them the planes, tanks, guns and ships, they will fight and win and live. "Between democracy and dictatorship there is no common ground. Their aims and their methods are both irreconcilable. Our American way is the right way." "There is a job to be done," said L. H. Gavin, "and the ability of the American people to produce the things we need to win this war against aggression is greater than that of any other people of the world. Our job is to give full play to our ability and to make the most effective use of what we have. The thought that every American should keep uppermost in his mind is that of winning the war and of marshalling our resources to crush the aggressive powers."

Contracts have been awarded for construction of the world's largest oil-carrying pipeline—the 24-inch, 550-mile emergency line from Texas to Illinois. Seven contractors have been assigned to build the line from Longview, Tex., to Norris City, Ill.

Navy Offers Good Places To Young Men

Here on Thursday to interview applicants for United States naval service, recruiters report the acceptance of Carlyle James Feeny, of Russell; also that they have recently received authority to enlist men found qualified for ratings as yeoman second and third class, storekeeper second and third class.

Yeomen enlisted under this quota need not be stenographers, it is stated, although this qualification is desirable, but must be proficient typists and know the standard typewriter.

They should have had experience in preparation of invoices, bills of lading, be able to use the touch system in typewriting, accomplishing at least 25 words per minute, and know bookkeeping and accounting.

Applicants must have at least two letters of recommendation from former employers or business school, outlining their professional qualifications. To be enlisted as a second class petty officer in the navy, a man must be over 23 years old, third class petty officer over 20.

Any men desiring further information is asked to see the recruiters when they visit headquarters, 238 Pennsylvania avenue, west, every Wednesday and Thursday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

DON'T BOOST FOR HITLER

Last year it was fun!

This year it's war. And pranksters who play "Hallowe'en as usual" are just making it that much easier for Hitler.

Last year it was great sport to lie behind the spirea bushes and listen to Neighbor Jones cuss when he found the air all out of his tires.

This year, Neighbor Jones is in such a hurry to make the midnight shift at a war industry that he won't have time to check his tires.

And if those tires are flat, he may tear four precious casings to shreds before he realizes that some thoughtless kid has been up to monkey business.

And that, boys and girls, is serious business—just about as serious as if you were to hand Mr. Hitler a brand new scout car, or as deadly serious as if you were to blast one of Uncle Sam's planes out of the air or knock one of his busy ambulances off the road when it was hurrying to the front lines on an errand of mercy.

There's a new rule this year. It still involves fun. But this time it's constructive fun like the grand job you did in collecting tens of thousands of pounds of scrap iron to be turned into previous war metal.

This year it's a different story. War has a priority over Hallowe'en. And if we don't win it, there'll never be another Hallowe'en again.

Have fun, boys and girls, but refrain from vandalism!

ADEQUATE ALARM LACKING

Many towns throughout the area had experiences similar to Warren during Monday night's surprise air raid drill, due to the fact that citizens failed to hear the alarms that had been provided for the tests.

The St. Marys Press, commenting on the situation there says "Until St. Marys has an adequate air raid alarm system in operation, blackouts will still be pretty much of a flop as it was Monday night, when lights were still burning in some homes ten minutes after the alarm sounded."

"In many places householders had gone out for the night and left lights burning, contrary to rules that have been published in papers on several occasions."

"The alarm was not heard in several sections of the town and in those areas the lights that did go out were turned off when street lights went out."

The very nature of a "surprise" blackout means that people will have to be on their toes all the time for such alarms, for enemy aircraft give out no advance tip of their coming.

GIFTS FOR JOHNNY DOUGHBOY

The following, reprinted from a special column on the editorial page of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, will be read with much interest by many Times-Mirror subscribers:

Pittsburghers who are anxious to put the most useful and welcome gifts into that Christmas box for the soldier boy "down under" will find some suggestions in an excerpt from a letter from Private Bob Correll to his parents, the H. W. Corrells of Beaver Falls.

Bob went to the army almost two years ago from his classes at the California State Teachers' College. He's now in New Caledonia with a field artillery outfit. To his father, formerly with the Pittsburgh and Warren chambers of commerce, now on special assignments for a local advertising agency, he writes:

"Some of the things that are hardest to get here are: flashlights, batteries, and bulbs—they are most useful; shaving cream, blades, after-shave lotions; hair oil—we need it badly; chocolate candy is unheard of as a regular thing, and is fought for. A soldier never knows how many friends he has until he opens a package from home with some chocolate in it. Also chewing gum, and hard packaged candies."

ALL YOU'VE GOT

The Citizens Emergency Committee on Nondefense Expenditures quotes an unnamed federal official as saying: "It will take all we've got to win. What are you going to do about it?"

Without knowing the circumstances or the official, one can't tell whether this was merely a grammatical slip or whether it was the expression of a too common attitude.

"We're in a bad fix. What are you going to do? I'm too busy to be bothered." You'll find it in Washington, in New York, in Des Moines and in Birmingham.

This war won't be won until the universal attitude becomes: "What are WE going to do?"

A last reminder to the army of hunters who will take to the woods tomorrow in search for small game—make sure of your target before you shoot, and guard against starting forest fires!

Football fans are anticipating something just a little bit more exciting in that game between Warren and Ridgway tomorrow, and somehow or other we have a feeling they will not be disappointed.

One Way to Keep 'Em Down On the Farm

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Come time to pay it, the new federal tax bill is going to knock the noses off so many people that that old word "complacency" will be lost to the language.

This country is as much of a hodge-podge economically as it is geographically so nobody is going to be able to set up any tables and say: "Here, brother, is just what you are up against."

There is, however, one little group here in Washington that is a pretty fair example of what some of us are going to be up against. That's the $1,400-a-year, or minimum pay, government clerks. Many of them are girls.

NOT many months ago, the Department of Labor went into the "minimum costs of a decent living standard" for government girls pretty thoroughly. If the Department of Labor statisticians had any ax to grind, try and find it. They weren't after getting wages up or down. They were only trying to set up a minimum budget by which government girls, at starting salaries could exist. The total, according to this estimate, was $1,213.00.

To itemize it here would take more space than I have, but just to give you an idea of how generous the D.L. was being with its estimates, it allowed only $13 for "miscellaneous" and only $29 for the year for savings.

Since then, times have changed considerably. There's 3 per cent for the federal retirement fund, $72 a year, on which Miss G. Girl will realize when she arrives at the ripe age of 60.

Then there's 10 per cent for War Savings bonds. This isn't compulsory, of course, but the pressure can be pretty terrific when every one around you is doing his or her bit in that direction. That means $144 more.

Now comes the tax—the sparkling new federal tax. That will be in the neighborhood of $170. Add it up. The G-Girl who used to hit that minimum budget on the nose and come out with $100 or so to the good for a trip home or some other luxury, now is going to come out $100 to $250 minus, depending on how patriotic she is in buying those war bonds.

ALL this is, of course, hypothetical, even in Washington. How can you set down any minimum figure for decent rentals in a city where it is discovered that 133 soldiers (studying radio engineering) are paying $20 a month apiece for cot space in a converted warehouse?

On the other hand, some compassionate landlords and ladies are providing very decent rooms at less than that.

Some G-Girls, according to bureau counselors, earn minimum wages and send money home every month, but just how they manage it is a mystery to the counselors. Perhaps some of the story is told in the rapidly rising curve of personal loans to government employees in the lower brackets.

What Republicans Say About Republicans

Senator James J. Davis in a primary campaign address, March 21, 1942, said:

"General Martin is the 'Charlie McCarthy' for those who have controlled the political machine in Pennsylvania for years. He is a candidate who could never win in a General election. Pew and Grundy are perfectly willing to sabotage the Republican party with a losing candidate rather than have control of the party pass from their hands."

Concert Association Extends Invitation To Men and Women In Uniform to Hear Soprano
At 8:30 p. m. Monday in the Woman's Club auditorium, the Warren Concert Association will present Polyna Stoska—tall, slender, blonde and personable—as its first recitalist of the season.
With Harrison Potter at the piano for her accompaniments, Miss Stoska will sing five groups, including Elsa's Dream from Wagner's "Lohengrin" and Du bist der Lenz from the same composer's "Die Walkure."
Old English compositions comprise her first group, followed by German selections, in which Brahms, Wolf and Strauss share honors. An English language group follows and, after intermission, four French songs.
Although this is her first concert appearance in this section of the country, critics in the east have acclaimed Miss Stoska as a remarkably fine singer, possessing a dramatic soprano voice of ample proportion to fill an opera house, evenly tempered and well placed. One writer says of her: "Polyna Stoska demonstrated a maturity and intelligence of interpretative style backed up by as formidable a vocal technique as it has ever been our privilege to hear in a newcomer."
Officers of the local association extended today a cordial invitation to all service men and women to be guests at Monday's concert if they care to attend. Many Warren members are now in some branch of the country's armed service and those home on leave may bring uniformed friends as guests.
It is stated, also, that any interested persons who were not contacted during the 1942-43 enrollment may secure their memberships at the door Monday night and be eligible to attend this concert and the two to follow. No single admissions are sold under the local membership plan, but admissions may be arranged for guests from a distance.

Y Campaign Ends Tonight With Dinner

Intensive work on the part of many of the Y. M. C. A. campaign organization yesterday and today may bring victory to the Call to Membership despite the fact that approximately half of the goal remained to be achieved at the time of the last report on Wednesday. What the campaigners hope will be a victory dinner to be held this evening at 6:30 o'clock.

With so many young men in or about to go into the service, the goal of 600 set by the Association for this year's Call to Membership goal was admittedly high and unusually difficult to achieve. Nevertheless, most of the campaign workers are faithfully endeavoring to reach this high goal, realizing that the "Y" needs the full six hundred as much or more than ever before. There are some who are saying that the goal should be reached though it may necessitate some post-campaign effort.

Tonight, however, will be the official closing night, and recognition will be given not only to the high team for the total report, but for the team piling up the greatest number of points for the entire campaign. A good dinner and good fellowship are in store for the workers who attend to night, and the "task force" officers are requesting a full attendance.

Regardless of the results of tonight's report, which is expected to bring the goal within reach at least, the new staff of the "Y" is appreciative of the splendid cooperation of a fine group of workers. The employed officers of the Association are laying plans for an interesting and vital program, appealing to all ages from 9 years up.

"When character fails, we all pay. Not the individual alone, but family, friends, business associates, employers, the community, all share the cost of the tragedy," General Secretary Ralph Wagner declared this morning. "That's one reason we suggest that the development of an adequate membership in the Y. M. C. A. should be a real concern and responsibility of citizens in general, even though all of them cannot participate in activities of the program," he said.

YOU ARE ON THE FIRING LINE NOVEMBER 3RD

Then Is the Time to Choose Your Representatives at Washington and Harrisburg

Put Your Trust In Republicanism and Vote Straight Republican On TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3rd.

Deciding our governmental policies by voting is one of the cherished guarantees under our constitution. The present war is being waged primarily to safeguard for us the constitutional rights already possessed. Never in the life of our republic was the outcome of an election more important to every citizen, particularly to the boys in uniform.

They Are Fighting the World Battle 365 Days of the Year. Is it too Much to Ask That You Give One Day on the Home Front?

The issues to be settled on November 3rd will vitally affect you and yours far into the future. Those who are to represent you in Washington and at Harrisburg should be carefully selected. You will vote to elect one Congressman-at-Large from Pennsylvania and one Congressman locally. These two men for two years will help determine the conduct of the war and what burdens will be laid upon you in taxation and service to make the war effort successful.

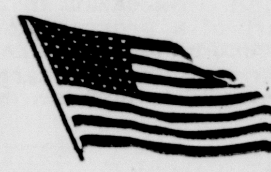

In Warren County, you will elect your representative to the State Senate of Pennsylvania, one of the fifty members of that body, and one of the Representatives in the lower house of the General Assembly. These two bodies, with the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth, will determine what laws shall be placed upon the Statute books of Pennsylvania in the next two years, and what the State's contribution shall be to the war effort in this the greatest industrial state in the Union.

The Republican Party is pledged, and so are its candidates, to an all-out support of the war effort both at Washington and Harrisburg. They are pledged to decent, clean government and economical expenditures for civilian purposes so that the greatest amount possible may be available for war.

The most important office to be filled is that of Governor, who, for the next four years will lead this Commonwealth. Almost every problem that will confront him will be related to the war. The Republican Party, cognizant of the tremendous responsibilities that will confront him, has selected General Edward Martin. He will bring to that office forty-four years training in military affairs including participation in the Spanish American War, the Mexican incident and the leadership of troops on the front line in France in World War I, where he was gassed, twice wounded and twice decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross. He is equally conversant with our civilian problems having served as Auditor General and State Treasurer of Pennsylvania to which offices he was elected as the Republican candidate with majorities in each instance of a few thousand votes less than a million.

The PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER editorially on Sunday, October 18, summarized the campaign in these words:

"Pennsylvania has an opportunity of placing in the Governor's office precisely the right man at precisely the right time. To fit Pennsylvania's arsenal tightly and concretely into the structure of America at war we need General Edward Martin as Governor."

The ballot below will show you the candidates for whom you vote when you vote a straight Republican ticket thus--

Tires On Way To Warehouse From Warren

"There is one thing that few have awakened to and that is that they cannot sell their old tires to anyone but Uncle Sam," said the local express agent this morning. "Many have an idea they can sell their old tires, but such is not the case. We are looking for a great rush of tire shipments about November 8th or 9th, as November 9th is the deadline on which all excess tires above five for each car must be shipped to Uncle Sam."

Inquiry developed the fact that Warrenites are complying with the order to turn all excess tires over to the government. Yesterday, 40 tires were shipped and the average is about 25 tires per day. It is thought that this represents only a small proportion of the tires on hand. Many dealers have scores of old tires that have not been shipped and these must all go into the government warehouses. It is surprising, too, to find that many good tires are being shipped. There are some bad ones, even with holes in them, but the average tire sent in still has many miles of use left in it.

Shipments of tires to the warehouse in Buffalo, where they are sent from this district, find the express company employees making up forms in triplicate and all three forms are sent along with the shipment. This makes it somewhat difficult to check the entire number of tires that have been shipped. Forms are running low and a new supply has been ordered as the expressmen feel that there will be a grand rush to get the excess tires shipped on the last few days.

Garagemen also expect a rush of business as car owners get their tires changed putting on their better tires and getting their old tires off to Uncle Sam. It is also suggested that when sending in tires one bundle should be made and all tires shipped wired together. This will assure their being properly checked in the warehouses and payment will be expedited.

Woodward, minister of the United Brethren church, will present a paper on "The Political Basis of a Just and Durable Peace" for the regular meeting of Warren County Ministerial Association at the YMCA at 10:30 a. m. ## *Your VACUUM CLEANER

KEEP IT WORKING

Vacuum Cleaners contain rubber copper, aluminum, zinc, tin and steel. So do tanks, planes, ships and guns. That's why new vacuum cleaners are almost unavailable. Treat your present cleaner well and it will serve you faithfully.

- Before using your cleaner, pick up bits of glass, pins, tacks and other hard objects from the floor.
- Empty the bag at least once a week. Occasionally, bag should be turned inside out and cleaned with a hand vacuum or brushed by hand.
- Keep brushes free from hair and threads.
- Grasp the plug itself—never the cord—when disconnecting the cleaner. Avoid wrapping the cord tightly when putting the cleaner away. Rough usage will loosen connections and break wires or insulation.
- Follow the manufacturer's advice about lubrication and general care. (Some cleaners have sealed motors that need no additional attention. Others must be lubricated occasionally. Never use excessive oil or grease.)

Have your vacuum cleaner checked periodically by your electric appliance service man to be sure it's working properly.

Warren Clashes With Strong Ridgway Outfit Tomorrow

Dragons Are Girded For Tough Struggle With Elk Countians

Unless a special game is booked for the Warren Dragons tomorrow's football game will ring down the curtain on their schedule for 1942. And this game promises to be one of the kind that will keep anyone from feeling the chill breezes that are due to blow. There should be excitement all the way as both Coach Sherm Stanford and J. B. Leidig have their teams up for this game. Both have worked their boys hard and the lads have been faithful in adhering to the admonitions of their mentors.

Stanford, according to the Ridgway Record feels that this will be the game of games for his squad and has them just where he wants them. A shifty defense and a strong passing game has been developed. Ridgway has a number of speedy fellows who handle passes like the lads of Green Bay and when a pass is snapped the receivers know where to go.

Leidig has his squad in good shape. All of the lads who were suffering from bumps and bruises have rounded into form and the team will be as strong as it has been this year.

There should be a big crowd and the whistle will blow at 2:30 for one of the best games that has taken place this year on the Russell Field gridiron.

Sheffield and Youngville are both performing today. The Brookside lads will trek to Cambridge Springs to unpack their bag of tricks and they anticipate that they will be able to bring home the bacon. Cambridge Springs has had a spotty season and the Youngville lads after a season of stiff opposition anticipate they will be able to take 'em. They play this afternoon.

Sheffield will play under the arcs at Corry tonight. The Corry team has been playing some good ball but the Beavers have lost

Challenge Issued By Exchange Club

Bowling members of the local Exchange Club, having had a kegging party and through it gained a glimpse of potentialities, want to match strikes and spares with a team of five men from any other service club in the community.

The object of the challenge is to benefit the war effort through the purchase of a $25 War Bond by the losing team winners to choose a local charity to which it will be donated, and thus accomplishing a two-fold purpose and having an evening of fun.

Covering The Sports Front!

By "BOB" JOHNSON

Warren's dwindling supply of football adversaries has reached the final stages when the whistle blows for tomorrow's tilt, unless rumors turn into facts about games that are in the making. In the local scene none too easy schedule of the past season Ridgway has turned up one of the nearest records and looms as a fat favorite to plenty of localities who went all out for the Blue and White in their former battles.

This year's cage squad will probably be built around "dead eye" Jimmy Urbanski, and if he displays the same prowess as last, those trainloads of enemy basketballs will go home with more than a little disadvantage. Did we say trains—that's this corner's guess, unless they can get each captain to run for an office or have him work nights for that unlimited card.

This paragraph is dedicated to a few of the best known hunters of Warren county who are now in the armed services of the United States and to let them know that tomorrow, such names as George Carlson, the Foster brothers of Chancellors Valley, Lynn Beach, "Stretch" Campbell, Bob Williams, Chuck Brooks, and a host of others, will be more than just a memory to their former partners and friends—they will be sorely missed.

Bill Rice has accepted the challenge and says "anytime, anyplace" for that checks on the line bowling match. We're agreeable to the match, but hate to give such odds—Maybe you can't buy a cigar in Bradford anyway—Tomorrow being the first opening Saturday since way back in '36 will be a record breaker. Most of the five day a week fans can turn out—and if the Dragons don't win tomorrow, they can at least turn the field into a victory garden.

Punts and Passes

By the Associated Press
Madison, Wis.—Guess this is my lucky seven year, says Coach Harry Stuhldreher of his Wisconsin eleven.

Now in his seventh season as head grid coach at the Badger school, Stuhldreher has tied the record for the longest tenure in that job. Phil King, a Princeton graduate, coached the badgers from 1896 through 1902.

Great Lakes, Ill. Coach Paul Hinkle of the Great Lakes Bluejackets proves that statistics do not always tell the football story.

"We've lost three of our first five games," he says, "but we have travelled almost as much as rushing along, 822 yards, as our five opponents have done by combined rushing and passing, 866 yards."

The Bluejackets' own total offense has netted 1225 yards.

"What do you have to do to win?" asks Hinkle.

Pete Bailey was a huge bulk of a man with quiet, kindly eyes. For two decades he had been more than a football coach at State.

Third-string scrubs found his office as comfortable as the Ali-American he had turned out. He puffed slowly on his pipe.

"Todd, we're in an ugly spot—yes, I said we, because when one of my boys is on the spot I am too. I've heard of a well-known coach in fact, Frank Garvey of the Chronicle, and a couple of the newspaper boys from downtown have been trying to get you all day. They finally got me. They want a story. Todd—and we've got to say something."

Todd stared at the wall, first, and then straight at Pete. "There's nothing like the truth," he said simply. "And the truth isn't going to take cover behind every tree on the campus."

The door opened just then and Joe Kirk came in. Joe was athletic publicity director. "Hi, Todd," he said, sitting down. "Just leave this up to Pete and me, kid—we'll take care of it and it'll all blow away in a couple of weeks. Just one thing for you to remember—no direct quotes from you to any newspapermen. We'll just sort of talk this thing over now, the three of us, and I'll give the boys a statement. They'll be screaming to get at you personally, but let 'em scream."

"I don't care what they say," Todd said quietly. "It can come to me if they want to. I'm not afraid to talk to them, Joe."

Bailey laid a hand on Todd's knee. "Todd," he said softly, "you haven't done a thing. You're clean as a whistle and you're all four acres in the deck to everyone. But boy, you don't know what you're going to be butting your head into from now on if this thing gathers momentum. I know—I've been around."

The more you fight it, the more pressure it builds up, until they'll be tossing it in your face every Saturday afternoon. Joe's right. They'll pounce on every word you utter until every syllable confronts you on all sides. I've never known you to call the wrong play yet. Todd—don't call 'em bad now."

"Okay, Pete," Todd said. "I'll crawl into my shell. I'll hide," he said bitterly.

MURDER on the Campus

By JERRY BRONDFIELD

Chapter Eight

The Serious Truth

SUSAN and the rest of them seemed paralyzed for a moment. It was not until Todd went out the door that Susan recovered.

"Eddie, stop him," she said, but Eddie Luttrell, turning his head slowly toward Phil Humphries, said, "No—let him go. I'll see him back at the house."

Humphries wore a bewildered expression. "Really? I'm sorry—I had no idea—I was just joking. It's amazing that my joke should have turned into a serious truth."

Eddie arose, still looking at Humphries. "I'm not sure about that. Humphries. Come on—let's get out of here. I don't like the smell."

Susan paused briefly before Humphries. "Phil," she faltered. "I don't think I believe you either." Then she rushed after the others.

Tony's was always crowded and anything said in one booth could be heard ten feet away. Two couples at the next booth looked at each other and a blond haired boy with a crew-cut whistled long and loud.

"Jeepers," he said, "did you get a load of what I heard?"

Kid Promise
TODD lay sprawled out on his bed, his face to the open window. A stiff, cool breeze felt good on his hot forehead. He heard the door open but he didn't turn around.

Eddie walked over silently in the dark and sat down on the bed beside him. He sat there for a full minute before saying a word.

"Susie said she had a wonderful time tonight," he said. "Maybe you'd better call her tomorrow—"

"I'm sorry I can't like a whipped cur," Todd said.

Eddie swore softly. "You didn't. We understand why you got out of there so fast. We saw that look on your face. We were afraid, for a moment."

"So was I," Todd said hollowly. "I don't think I've ever shown it around here but I'm supposed to have a violent temper. Dad always told me when I feel it coming on I should walk away from it. He—"

Todd stopped. Eddie stretched out beside him. "I wish I had known—about your Dad. I mean, maybe I could be of more help to you now. You know it doesn't mean a thing to me. You know that nothing could make any difference with me. Would you like to tell me a little about it? You don't have to, though."

"Thanks, Ed. There isn't much. They buried something on Dad two years ago—he was framed beautifully—and they sent him to the Pen." He punched the pillow viciously. "Sure, a lot of the boys have wondered about me for three years now. Couldn't blame 'em, I guess."

He turned on Eddie fiercely. "But I never intended to conceal a thing. I'm not ashamed of my father. He was a rambler, yes—one of the biggest—but he was square and honest and as fine a man that ever breathed."
